

KNOWLEDGE

Knowledge is a life long pursuit.

You don't know what you know until you know what you don't know.

What we learn with pleasure we never forget.

Time is the wisest of all teachers.

It's impossible to learn what you think you already know.

You teach best what you most need to learn.

What we hope to do with ease, we must first learn to do with diligence.

We don't know a millionth of one percent about anything.

The scholar who cherishes the love of comfort is not fit to be deemed a scholar.

Imagination is more important than knowledge.

The only thing that costs more money than education is ignorance.

The one who knows it all has much to learn.

Imagination is more important than knowledge; for knowledge is limited while imagination embraces the entire world.

The only fool bigger than the one who knows it all is the one who argues with him.

Who is the more foolish? The fool or the fool who follows him?

A fool who persists in his folly can become wise.

Sit with the foolish and become one of them.

Nothing is more lamentable to see than ignorance in action.

Education is the ability to listen to almost anything without losing your temper or your self-confidence.

It is lawful to learn even from an enemy.

Learning without thought is labor lost; thought without learning is perilous.

We must educate the mind with reason, and the heart with compassion.

A fine line lies between genius and madness.

KNOWLEDGE – 2

The head doesn't hear unless the heart desires to listen.

Conversation enriches the understanding, but solitude is the school of genius.

Before you can learn to fly, you must first learn to walk. You cannot fly into flying.

Zeal without knowledge is a runaway horse.

Learning makes the wise wiser, but the fools more foolish.

Necessity is the mother of invention.

Where we cannot invent we may at least improve.

Knowledge is not enough, unless it leads you to understanding and, in turn, to wisdom.

Knowledge is the antidote to fear.

Knowledge is power.

He who knows not and knows not that he knows not is a fool - Avoid him.

He who knows and knows not that he knows is asleep - Waken him.

He who knows not and knows that he knows not wants beating - Beat him.

He who knows and knows that he knows is a wise man - Know him.

Discovery consists of seeing what everybody has seen and thinking what nobody has thought.

Reading is to the mind as exercise is to the body.

The larger the island of knowledge, the longer the shoreline of wonder.

Discussion is an exchange of knowledge; argument is an exchange of ignorance.

All our knowledge has its origins in our perceptions.

Nothing is too small to know, and nothing is too big to attempt.

To read without reflecting is like eating without digesting.
